
LETTER TO THE MANAGEMENT

April 9, 2017

Dear Sir/Madam:

As you know, I am in the Vacation Rotation for the next two, maybe three, weeks.

I must look my best if I am to be an internet celebrity 24/7. This means I will need a personal groomer to brush my long, beautiful mane (eat your heart out, Cameron) a few times a day since it does tend to get a little tangled overnight and on a windy day like we had earlier this week.

I think the best person for this task would be Dr. Justin. I feel that we got off on the wrong foot – or dart, as the case may be – and would welcome the chance to set things right. Therefore, I am extending a personal invitation to him to come visit me in the Vacation Rotation enclosure.

While there, we can laugh and frolic and really get to know each other. We can play Tag, The Doctor Is It; Hide and Seek (no need to bring the Ghillie suit); Musical Platforms (similar to Musical Chairs); and Joseph Says (like Simon Says).

Knowing that Dr. Justin likes to stay healthy, I have designed a special jogging game for him called “Chase and Climb.” We can test his endurance by clocking the amount of time he can hang on the fence or pole to avoid becoming dinner ... uh, I mean, avoid being caught. I'm sure we'll be BFFs by the time my vacation is through.

Please tell him there is no need to bring the dart gun.

Thank you for your attention.

Sincerely,

Joseph (The King) Lion
(Sent via Lori D., Secretary to the Cats)