
LETTER TO THE MANAGEMENT

May 15, 2017

Dear Sir/Madam:

Well, it's apparent that you will let anyone visit here now. Obviously more stringent controls need to be put in place.

Some of the Explore stalkers were here this weekend and - get this - they sang to me. Now, I like music and I like being sung to. HOWEVER, they sung Soft Kitty.

SOFT KITTY! DO I LOOK LIKE A SOFT KITTY?

I would have been very impressed had they sung The Lion Sleeps Tonight, or any song from The Lion King ... but Soft Kitty? Harumph.

Knowing they were from out of town and traveled very far to be here, I did grace them with a roar to thank them -- but I did not feel the need to get up from my platform to do so. Next time, they will know better.

It's so hard being the King and training my subjects.

Sigh.

Sincerely,

Joseph Lion
(Sent via Lori D., Secretary to the Cats)

