
LETTER TO THE MANAGEMENT

June 14, 2017

Dear Sir/Madam:

I am writing concerning the lack of security at our facility. I am very concerned due to recent events. A tour group came in May, and all KINDS of shenanigans went on. One person in the group kept trying to get Zabu to climb into the back of a golf cart to take her home. (The Secretary vehemently disavows any knowledge of this event.) Another one kept calling Nikita "my girl" and making comments about leaving with her. Some girl with pigtails was trying to become best friends with Priya, and another was sweet-talking TJ. Even the staff was not safe! A bunch of them surrounded Josh on his golf cart, but luckily he kept his foot on the gas and was able to get away quickly.

I heard that they were eventually captured and put into one of the empty cages on the property, only to escape later that day and scatter far and wide.

BUT - it appears they left behind a master spy. He is a genius at disguises, sometimes appearing as a squirrel, other times as a lizard, but most often as a big white bird (I heard them call him "Ernie"). He follows the Keepers around when they are distributing meds and/or snacks, and reports everything back to the group. I don't know about the rest of the residents here at the sanctuary, but I don't need my frolicking with my two new girlfriends broadcast to the whole world. I like to keep things like that on the down low, if you know what I mean. And this "bird" even tries to steal my supper! What's up with that? To discourage him I lay in my den now and make the Keepers use the long stick to feed me. They may think I'm lazy, but I'm really just making sure he doesn't get my food.

Perhaps this is really MI-6 Secret Agent Monty in disguise? Someone needs to look into this ASAP.

Sincerely,

Hoover Tiger
(Sent via Lori D., Secretary to the Cats)