

From the Diary of Nikita Lioness

Dear Diary:

Today was a good day. My BFF Dr. Justin came to visit me, and even though he didn't bring me chicken I was so excited to see him I nearly knocked the fence over. I've been feeling a bit under the weather and he came to see how I was doing. He also gave the okay to let me out from my royal chamber and into the courtyard again, and that made me really happy! Heaven only knows who has been playing with my toys while I've been in seclusion; you know how those interns are!

He brought Jamie with him for his visit this morning, too. It must be hard for her to come visit The Other Woman, but she always treats me like the royalty that I am. Rumor around the sanctuary has it that she has been trying to capture an orphaned bobkitten, but so far no luck. Maybe tonight will be the night.

It's been raining cats and dogs here (not literally – that's just an expression), and since King Joseph got caught in it the other day he had his yearly bath. His mane looks so much better now. I keep telling him he needs to use conditioner so it won't get so tangled, but you know how guys are.

Well, Diary, that's it for today. I must nap now and dream of chicken....
