
LETTER TO THE MANAGEMENT

August 12, 2016

Dear Sir/Madam,

I have the following issues that need to be addressed:

Harassment:

- ◆ Every time Cameron and Zabu go on vacation, Cameron insists on staring at me because he's afraid I'm making eyes at Zabu. First of all, I don't like blondes. Secondly, Zabu seems to prefer bald men to those of us who have long, luxurious hair. Cam obviously has a jealousy problem, and needs to see a professional to deal with his issues and get on some meds. Either that, or I want curtains hung when they are on vacation.
- ◆ The lady who drives around in the pink golf cart with the camera told everyone I frighten her. Well, of course I do; that's my job. I'm the King of Beasts and I'm meant to frighten everybody. I warn you, if this kind of talk continues you will be contacted by my purr-torneys, Catz Kats and Morekatz, who will file a suit for slander.
- ◆ There is a shaming photo posted on my webpage (<http://bigcatrescue.org/joseph>). Was it really necessary to post that photo and announce my bathroom habits to the world?
- ◆

The Vet, Dr. Justin Boorstein:

Now, seriously, does he really think I don't know it's him crawling towards me wearing a Ghillie suit? Who does he think he is, Leroy Jethroe Gibbs?

It was so funny the first time he did it! I saw him coming and had to turn away from him so he didn't see me laughing!

Paparazzi:

Photos, videos, 24-hour cameras, and now drones? Just how many times and ways do I need to be photographed and filmed? Even my medical procedures are broadcast live! Is there no privacy anymore?

I think I should be compensated for all these photo op sessions; bring on the vanilla ice cream.

I trust that these issues will be addressed quickly and to my satisfaction.

Sincerely,

Joseph Lion
(sent via Lori D., secretary to the Big Cats)

P.S. I think that stinky tiger, Amanda, has a crush on Cam.
