
LETTER TO THE MANAGEMENT

September 7, 2017

Dear Sir/Madam:

All right – just who is this “Irma” that everyone says is coming? Once again, no one asked my permission to bring another resident into our gated community.

Must I remind you AGAIN that I am Her Royal Lioness Nikita? Every new application for admission must be presented to me for approval. This has been a long-standing rule, which I must admit I have allowed to lapse. No more. From now on, I demand to see the application and approve it before anyone else moves in.

The rumor around the sanctuary is that this Irma is a real blowhard. Is that really someone we want to welcome to our close-knit community? Lord knows we already have enough trouble with some of the more cantankerous residents here (Joseph and Amanda, I’m looking right at you!)

I understand she has already been evicted from various other locations and is now headed here to Florida.

I did not approve this, and I simply won’t have it. Tell her to go away, as she is not welcome here.

Harumph.

Sincerely,

HRL Nikita Lioness
(Sent via Lori D., Secretary to the Cats)
