
LETTER TO THE MANAGEMENT

September 20, 2016

Dear Sir/Madam,

Thank you for installing the bidet in my enclosure; since I can't get out to my big toilet it was nice to have someone clean my bum for me. It was very much appreciated.

However, this perk does not make up for the constant mooing of the cow next door. 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. How can a tiger be expected to sleep with all that going on?

To make matters worse, that bovine insists on getting into the lake when it rains and singing "Swimming in the Rain." Obviously he is not right in the head because it appears he now thinks he's Gene Kelly.

Next I expect to see him out there with a raincoat and umbrella dancing around Peg the Keg.

Once again I request that this situation be remedied as soon as possible. Perhaps if you get me a white noise machine it might help.

Sincerely,

TJ Tiger
(Sent via Lori D., Secretary to the Cats)