LETTER TO THE MANAGEMENT

---

---

December 1, 2017

Dear Sir/Madam:

While searching Facebook the other day, we saw this.

“Belinda D: I’d never do well there. I would make a treat belt and walk around all day.”

For pete’s sake, hurry and hire this woman before she gets away! We think this is a FANTASTIC idea and that she would be a great addition to our staff here. We don’t know how she came up with this invention, but we want to be the first to try it out. We picture a belt with turkey legs and chicken hanging down that she can just grab and flick into our enclosures.

And on rainy days, she could use a refrigerated ice cream truck (picture below) so that neither she nor the treats get wet. And the music playing could be “Soft Kitty” – although when driving near King Joseph or Queen Nikita it would have to be changed to some royal trumpet fanfare.

What a wonderful thing it would be to get treats between breakfast and the end of day. I mean, heaven knows we very rarely get any – just ask Zabu, she’ll tell you.

Frankly, we can’t believe no one has thought of this before. Please implement this ASAP

Sincerely,

The Residents of Big Cat Rescue
